AGED 65 OR ABOVE RELATIVE

EXPECTED TO DOUBLE

THE PENSION CHALLENGE

Europe is ageing, adding to the huge challenge for its governments of making sure that people have adequate savings for their retirement. The fact that Europeans are living longer is putting increasing pressure on pensions systems at a time when public finances are already under strain. The number of people aged 65 or above relative to those aged 15 to 64 is expected to double by 2060. According to UN Statistics, by 2050, Malta is expected to be the country with the ninth highest life expectancy in the world. Many European states are therefore encouraging their citizens to take personal responsibility and contribute more and for longer periods if they are to have an adequate income in retirement.

Multi-pillar pension systems are widely seen as the most effective way to ensure the sustainability and adequacy of retirement provision. As major providers of a wide variety of occupational and personal pensions, insurance companies are a key part of any multi-pillar system. As an effectively regulated and well performing industry, the insurance industry has much to contribute to tackling Europe's pension challenge.

Multi-pillar systems involve complementing state retirement income (generally referred to as “first pillar”) with two other, funded pension pillars:

- A second pillar, or “occupational pensions”, consisting of funded pension arrangements (schemes) linked to a work contract or an occupational activity. These are generally set up by employers at either company or sector level into which voluntary contributions are normally made by both the employer and the employee.
- Third pillar, or “personal pensions”, consisting of voluntary retirement savings. These are products that individuals can access on a voluntary basis. Life insurers are by far the largest providers of these in Europe.

As major providers of occupational and personal pensions, insurers are an integral part of any multi-pillar system. What marks insurers out is their ability to provide protection for very different life risks. These include provision for dependents if a saver or beneficiary dies prematurely (mortality risk), and protection against outliving assets (longevity risk). Risks can be covered in both the savings (accumulation) phase and — through annuities or programmed withdrawals — the benefit (payout) phase.

MALTA PAVES WAY FOR VOLUNTARY OCCUPATIONAL PENSIONS (VOPS)

In 2017, Malta introduced a number of tax benefits to encourage employers to set up voluntary occupational pension schemes for employees. This important step paved the way for the introduction of voluntary occupational pension schemes in Malta.

The tax benefits are aimed at encouraging both employers and employees to contribute into an approved and qualifying voluntary occupational pension scheme. Employers are only eligible for tax benefits if they establish a qualifying scheme in terms of the law and one that is approved by the Commissioner of Tax and Customs.

CONTRIBUTIONS UP TO €750
PER EMPLOYEE EACH YEAR

TAX BENEFITS

There are a number of tax benefits available to you and your employees, which make the Mapfre Msv Life WorkSave Pension Scheme an attractive tax efficient proposition.

The current tax benefits are:

To the Employer:

- Tax credit of 25% of every contribution that you pay on behalf of an employee, subject to a maximum tax credit of €750 per employee per annum. Any unused tax credits may be carried forward to future years.
- Contributions that you pay on behalf of an employee are tax deductible up to €2,000 per annum.

Assuming that you pay a contribution of €3,000 per employee per annum and that you pay corporate tax at 35%, you will benefit from €750 in tax credits and €700 in tax deductibility. This means that, based on an annual contribution of €3,000 per employee per annum you will receive a total tax benefit of €1,450, and that your net outlay will be €1,550 per employee, or 52% of the €3,000 contribution paid.

To the Employee:

- Tax credit of 25% of every contribution that the employee pays into a workplace pension, subject to a maximum tax credit of €750 per employee each year in addition to tax credits that the employee receives under any personal pension plans that the employee might have.
- No Capital Gains Tax on investment income whilst retirement savings accumulate.
- At retirement, up to 30% of the retirement savings can be taken as a tax free lump sum.
- No tax is paid if the retirement savings are received by beneficiaries as a death benefit.
- Employer contributions are not subject to Fringe Benefit Tax.

The above tax credits are based on current Tax legislation and practice. Future changes in tax legislation could affect both your and your employees' tax position in relation to voluntary occupational pension schemes. In order to ascertain your exact tax status, you should seek professional tax advice.

INVESTMENT OPTIONS

Future pension adequacy depends not only on how much people save and for how long. Investing in a diversified range of assets can be as important as saving enough and has a very important role in delivering adequate retirement income. It is vital that pension savers have the option to invest in a well-diversified mix of the major asset classes. We offer a wide range of default and non-default investment options that invest in a broad range of asset classes, for you and your employees to choose to invest in. All our investment options consist of investment funds or investment strategies provided by some of the leading global asset management companies including Fidelity International, BlackRock, Invesco, Mapfre Asset Management, Schroders and local asset managers BOV Asset Management or REAPS Asset Management. All the investment options that we provide are externally managed by specialist asset managers. This means that we are not responsible for the performance of these funds and their continued availability.

At the commencement of the Scheme, we will invest all the Contributions received in the Default Investment Option which you will select. You can only select one (1) Default Investment Option at a time.

If permitted by the Scheme terms and conditions that we agree with you, your employees can opt out of the Default Investment Option by switching or redirecting their investments into other non-default funds of their choice after twelve (12) months from joining the Scheme.

INVESTMENT OPTIONS

Default Investment Options

Our Default Investment Options consist of conservative and balanced investment strategies as well as Lifestyle Funds. Default Investment Options are offered with the majority of the workforce in mind as they help address the behavioral issues that prevent savers from saving well for retirement.

Lifestyle Funds are investment funds that invest in a diversified portfolio of assets with varying levels of risk generally for long-term investing. Lifestyle funds are often utilized by investors seeking a savings vehicle for a specified utilization date and, therefore, are often used to support retirement savings. Lifestyle funds are also sometimes referred to as Target Funds since their purpose is of serving as a vehicle for investing funds toward a specific goal. Lifestyle Funds combine conservative, moderate or aggressive risk allocations for savers at all different stages of their lives. As the retirement age (Target Date) nears, a Lifestyle Fund will roll down into a more conservative mix of assets. This will happen automatically under the guidance of the fund manager without the need of any intervention by the investors in the fund.

Non-default Investment Options

We offer a wide range of active and passive investment funds that invest in various asset classes such as equities, bonds and money market instruments as well as in different sectors. Different investment funds have different levels of risk. Employees can opt out of the Default Investment Option by switching or redirecting their investment into other non-default investment options after 12 months from joining the Scheme.
